U. S. WARNS ITALY ON JEWS

Trial of $50,000 suit of Mrs. Ione Nugent of New York started today in Dedham court. She testified Philip Loring Reed, Dedham and Boston millionaire, employed her to lobby in Washington.

3 Graves Checks Offered in His Trial

Three cancelled checks, one for $30,000, one for $20,000, one for $15,000, were introduced as state's exhibits in the trial of Frederick H. Graves, accused of perjury at the Curley-Santosuosso trial, before Judge Harold F. Williams today.

These were the checks given to Graves, who was acting as an insurance adjuster, to settle the General Equipment Corporation's water-damage suit against the city. At the Curley-Santosuosso trial, Graves testified he approached then Mayor James M. Curley as to a settlement of the damage suit, and that Curley asked him, "What is there in it for me?"

JUDGE in Graves trial leaves court after long session. Superior Court Justice Harold Williams took case after two other judges refused to hear it.

Graves testified the "payoff" was $40,000.

$30,000 CHECK CASHED

The $15,000 check introduced in evidence today was shown to have been made payable to Graves "as agent."

The $20,000 check also was made payable to Graves "as agent," but endorsed by him "for deposit only" to the account of Ernest W. Brown, Inc., of New York, the insurance firm by which he was employed.

The $30,000 check was made payable to Graves, signed by Dr. Joseph Santosuosso "as trustee," and, from the bank stamps on it, cashed. It is around the question of what he did with this cash that much of Graves' own testimony is expected to center.

FIN. COM. TESTIMONY

After introducing the three checks in evidence the state today placed Miss Sarah Earley, official stenographer for the Boston Finance Commission, on the stand to read and identify 100 pages of testimony given by Graves before the Finance Commission in 1934 during the commission's investigation of the water damage suit "deal."

Graves pleaded guilty yesterday to the charge — one of the two against him — that he committed perjury in this testimony.

CURLEY HEARS TRIAL

The state, it was explained, intends to use it as a foundation for its charge that a "frame-up" existed, whereby, it is alleged, Graves was paid to lie on the witness stand against Curley and Santosuosso in the city's suit to recover the "pay-off" money allegedly given them.

Called to the witness stand late today or tomorrow were to be Stuart Rand, prominent Boston lawyer, and H. A. Osborn. Also among the state's witnesses, waiting to be called, is Edward F. McClennen, who was special counsel for the city in the Curley-Santosuosso suit.

U. S. Warns Duce Not to Exile American Jews

EXTRA

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7—The American government today warned Premier Mussolini of Italy it will not countenance discrimination against, or expulsion of, American Jews in Italy.

In a sharp note to the Italian government, the United States reminded Italy that there are large numbers of Italians residing in America.

The implication was clear that discrimination against American citizens by Italy might be followed by retaliatory measures against Italians in this country.

Italy was reminded further that Italians who have been properly admitted into the United States are given full protection of American law and are enabled to engage freely in private business, trade or other occupation and enjoy religious freedom without discrimination because of race or creed.

In view of America's treatment of Italian subjects, the United States government suggested that Premier Mussolini might see fit to revise his decree of Sept. 12 expelling Jews from Italy so that it will not apply to any American Jews.

'Unloaded Gun' Kills Youth, 18

"We didn't know it was loaded!"

As a result 18-year-old James Dunning, McBride street, Jamaica Plain, died in City Hospital today, a bullet from a target pistol through his head.

Edward Phillips, 18, also of McBride street, told police he and young Dunning were cleaning the pistol in the kitchen of his home. He has a target range in the basement, he explained.

"We didn't know it was loaded," young Phillips repeated.

Hurled Bouquet Hurts Hitler

BERLIN, Oct. 7 (AP)—Adolf Hitler was slightly injured in the face today when an overenthusiastic Sudetenlander tossed a bouquet of flowers at the Fuehrer, making a triumphal tour of the fourth zone of occupation.

As a result of the mishap the Fuehrer issued a general order that Nazi party leaders henceforth will be held personally responsible for seeing to it that flowers are taken away from all persons along his line of march.

Even small bouquets in the hands of spectators must be seized.

The population also was admonished strongly by broadcast to refrain fram saying it with flowers. Afternoon papers published warnings against flower throwing.

Authoritative reports said Hitler's face was scratched when he was hit squarely by a big bunch of roses.

However, the injury was so slight that medical attention was not needed.

Concerning the rose-tossing incident a government spokesman said that the only reason for giving it publicity was the danger that the thorns on the roses might easily have injured the Fuehrer's eyes, possible loss of eyesight.

"Hitler always looks the crowds squarely in the face, wherefore anything thrown at him is likely to hit him in the eye," he said. "It was fortunate that this time there were only slight scratches on his face."

It was explained further that the government was glad to seize on this occasion for stopping the flower-throwing at the Fuehrer once and for all.

"It is understandable, of course, that the people in their great enthusiasm try to give expression thereto by throwing flowers," the spokesman said. "It is hard, however, to make the people realize that they might be endangering the Fuehrer. But after this incident they will understand why in future flowers must be forbidden."

New Slovak Flag Is Red Double Cross

PRESSBURG (Bratislava), Slovakia, Oct. 7 (INS)—An enthusiastic city-wide reception was given to Dr. Joseph Tiso, head of the new autonomous Slovak government, and his ministers.

2 DIE IN FIRE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 7 (AP)—Two persons died and nine others suffered burns today in a fire which destroyed Vanderbilt Gardens, suburban dance hall and apartment building.

Revere Grand Jury Decried

The "blue ribbon" special grand jury that has indicted Mayor James M. O'Brien, Chief of Police Edward Tighe and 47 others in the Revere racket investigation, was attacked as unconstitutional before Judge Frederick W. Fosdick in Suffolk criminal court today.

Attorney Wendell P. Murray, representing Chief Tighe, attacked the validity of the statute, adopted in 1922, under which special grand juries may be summoned in emergencies. He declared the State constitution requires that only regular grand juries be impaneled and that special grand juries are not lawful.

While today's hearing before Judge Fosdick involved only the cases of Mayor O'Brien, Chief Tighe and Lieutenant Henry Tracy, a ruling in their favor automatically would extend to all of the other defendants indicted by the special grand jury.

'Jail Harvard Riot Boys,' Lyons Order

Mayor John W. Lyons of Cambridge today told the police to prosecute riotous Harvard students as vigorouly as they would obstreperous "poor boys" of the community.

The mayoral blast at the university student body followed swiftly on the heels of complaints in Cambridge district court against four Harvard freshmen allegedly involved in an attack upon an American Legion parade.

"A Harvard student," said Mayor Lyons in a communication to Chief oIP olice Timothy L. Leahy, "is no different than a poor boy from any section of Cambridge.

DEMANDS WARRANTS

"If a poor boy indulged in such disgraceful tactics as did the Harvard students during the Legion parade everyone would demand that he be jailed.

"I want warrants against every known Harvard man who participated in the riot."

At the same time State Commander JoJhn J. Maguire of the Legion requested full information on the riot from Robert T. Killam, state vice-commander of the Sons of the American Legion, the unit allegedly attacked.

Killam, in a statement about the riot, linked the student attack to the influence of Nazism within the university walls.

'PROSECUTE GUILTY'

"It is time," he said, "that the American public should be informed of the extent of Nazi activities in our colleges.

"Those guilty should be prosecuted and an apology from Harvard should be forthcoming."

The four students against whom warrants were issued are Frank A. Pemberton, Jr., Joseph Ambrose, James M. Blumgarten and John S. Caylor.

Mayor Lynch barbed his ultimatum to the Harvard men with the sarcastic remark that his commission on juvenile deliquency might find it informative to include within its scope "the members of the student body at Har-

HEARING of suit for $50,000 brought against Philip Loring Reed, Dedham millionaire, by Mrs. Ione Nugent, New York widow, opened today in Dedham with her on the stand.

Socialite Absent In Widow's Suit

Testimony by Mrs. Ione Nugent, New York widow, in her $50,000 suit against Philip Loring Reed, Dedham millionaire, revealed today in Dedham court that he had allegedly hired her as a Washington lobbyist.

Reed was not in court when the trial opened before Judge E. Wright Fuller.on.

Attorney Anthony DeCecca, counsel for Mrs. Nugent, told the bench he had unsuccessfully sought to subpoena the financier.

Reed is a brother-in-law of former Governor Frank G. Allen and has extensive estates in Dedham and Marion.

The widow told the court she satisfied Reed that she had access to the congressional set and that thereupon he hired her to "do some work" for him in the capital.

"Mr. Reed then informed me," Mrs. Nug nt continued, "that Frederick Prince, with whom he said he was associated, was interested in the reorganizal'on of the Alleghany Company.

PRINCE "MR. X."

"He warned me to keep Prince's name out of my investigation and to describe him as 'Mr. X' when talking about him on the telephone.

"Mr. Reed told me I had taken on a difficult assignment and that

Roosevelt Hits Alien Spy Peril

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 7 (INS)—A heavy increase in foreign spy activities in the United States during the past 10 years has confronted the government with the serious problem of co-ordinating and strengthening counter-espionage agencies, President Roosevelt declared today.

Discussing the spy menace at a press conference, the President termed it a national problem. He said the administration was giving deepest study to the counteraction of army and navy espionage.

The President conceded he had been discussing the spy question this week with Lamar Hardy, U. S attorney for New York, who is handling prosecution of a large spy ring already turned up. Hardy recently returned from Europe where he undertook to arrange for thereturn to this country of important witnesses.

Mr. Roosevelt drew a careful line between sheer propaganda activities of foreign governments in the United States and the efforts of their undercover agents to obtain national defnse secrets.

America, he said, has no desire to set up a huge counter-propaganda organization. It should, however co-ordinate and strengthen the counter-espionage work now being done by the army and navy intelligence services, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, several agencies in the Treasury and the State Departments.

The President is leaving Hyde Park for Washington Sunday night. On Tuesday he will join with Mrs. Roosevelt in celebrating her birthday. The following week he will return here.

Romeo Role Seals Doom For Killer Lulu Belle Loves

HIGH POINT, S. C., Oct. 7 (INS)—Building himself up as a mighty lover meant a lot more to John Godwin today than his danger of meeting death in the state's lethal gas chamber.

The glib young gunman boasted in his cell of his power over Lulu Belle Kimell, 20, the jailer's daughter at Lexington, N. C., who gave him the keys to the jail and to her heart all in one bunch.

Asked if he thought she really loved him, Godwin said:

"Judge for yourself. Look what she's done for me."

DEATH SURER NOW

It turned out that Lulu hadn't done very well by Godwin although she did her best. After she helped him and Bill Wilson, 21, flee from her father's jail, the two began a rampage of robbery in which one victim was slain.

Trapped and slightly wounded by shotgun pellets in a barn near Hickory, N. C., yesterday, Godwin was captured shortly after his confederate surrendered. Both face the death penalty upon conviction for the killing.

After five hours' questioning Godwin virtually admitted being the trigger-man in the killing of Don Moss, according to police. He refused, however, to sign a confession.

The girl Godwin left behind him hadn't fared so well herself. Sentenced to 60 days in jail for letting the prisoners go, she was free today only on bail while the case was being appealed.

PLANNED TO ELOPE

"Why everybody around the county knew how things stood between me and her," said Godwin. "She's not much to look at, but nobody ever treated me better."

He declared they had intended to elope as soon as he had made enough from holdups to give him a new start in life. Picturing an idyllic future, Godwin said:

"I told her I'd come back and get her and we'd go out west and begin all over again. I would have, too. She's one of the best women I ever knew."

Godwin didn't say whether he would put her in the same class with the girl he is said to have married in Carthage, N. C., last July and deserted.

Lulu, he said, however, was one in a million. The two often skipped church service while in the jail and he spent the time with her.

"She still loves me," Godwin concluded. "I'll bet she comes over to visit me soon."

But Lulu said she wouldn't, although she admitted still having fond memories of her scapegrace sweetheart.

"He was so sweet," she said. "He promised me he would give up his wild life of crime and reform if I would only get him free. I did love him very much, truly I did."

New Italy Ban on Jews; Ethiopia to Be Haven

By FRANK GERVASI
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ROME, Oct. 7—Severe anti-Semitic measures were announced by Premier Mussolini's Fascist grand council today following a lengthy meeting which paved the way for a homeland for Jews in Ethiopia.

The council's 26 members confirmed previous legislation prohibiting immigration of foreign Jews into Italy and promulgated a series of new decrees designed to reinforce Il Duce's Italian "Aryanization" program.

The statement said Ethiopia would be opened to the Jews of Europe and Palestine dependent upon the "good behavior of Hebrewism" toward the newest Italian racial laws.

LAUDS IL DUCE

In its statement the council, Italy's highest governing body, also paid tribute to Mussolini for his part in the Munich conversations which prevented an immediate general war over the Sudeten.

"The Fascist grand council," said the communique, "is proud, as are all Italians, of being able to serve with faith, work and arms Il Duce, whose decisive intervention in events which are still in course of decisive development gained a triumph of peace based on justice and the rise of a new Europe which Il Duce felt beforehand was bound to come."

The statement also complimented the calm maintained by Italians during the war scare and held this out as "further proof of the profound transformation carried out by the black shirt revolution in the spirit and character of Italians."

BAN INTERMARRIAGE

It was announced that the grand council will meet again tonight.

The communique decreed that all Italians are forbidden to marry Jews or "other non-Aryans" and that Italian state officials are forbidden to marry foreign women of any race.

Italians, it stated, may only marry foreigners, even those of the "Aryan race," with the consent of the ministry of interior.

After confirming previous laws forbidding entry of foreign Jews into Italy, the council decreed that Jews falling into certain categories will not be expelled from Italy. Those include:

1—Foreign Jews over 65 years old and foreign Jews who contracted a mixed marriage with an Italian subject prior to October, 1938.

2—Those born of a mixed marriage but professing any religion other than Judaism on October 1, 1938, and who are not legally considered Jewish.

HEROES' KIN EXEMPTED

The council stated furthermore that various groups of Jews will not be subjected to any discrimination whatever. They include:

1—Families of Jews who have fallen in the four wars fought by Italians in this century—the Libyan war, the World War, the Ethiopian war and the Spanish war.

2—Families of war volunteers in these four wars.

3—Families of combatants in these same four wars who have fallen for the Fascist cause.

4—Families of those who have suffered injuries for the Fascist cause.

5—Families of Fascists who joined the party in the years 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and the second half of the year 1924.

6—Families of those who have rendered exceptional services to the state.

As regards the project for sending other Jews to Ethiopia, the grand council announced that it does not exclude the possibility of conceding controlled immigration of European Jews into some zones of Ethiopia.

This means that Jewish refugees from Austria, the Sudetenland and other sectors of Europe may find a haven in the Italian African empire and be permitted to work there under strict Italian supervision.

Rep. M'Cormack Joins Forces With Curley

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

Congressman John W. McCormack of South Boston today joined forces with James M. Curley, pledged to speak for the former governor in his quest for re-election.

Here to advance flood control measures, McCormack conferred with the Democratic candidate for governor, and then announced he would speak in his behalf tonight at Lowell, tomorrow at Springfield and on Sunday at Worcester.

Curley praised the Old Age Assistance Act and the 40-hour week before 200 members of the Industrial Insurance Agents Union at Old South Meeting House.

He told members that organization of workers was necessary and that every worker should be a member of a labor union. He then told his listeners to have vision to look into the future and see that their happiness lies in organization.

Meanwhile, Leverett Saltonstall, Republican candidate, pledged complete elimination of "narrow partisanship" in handling of state affairs.

"It is my sacred pledge to the people of Massachusetts that any measure which is for the people will receive my wholehearted support, regardless whether its sources be New Deal, Independent, Republican, Socialist or Democrat."

Mercury Hits Autumn Low

This was really a chilly morning.

The mercury took its record dive of the autumn, thus far, dropping down to 38.1 at the Boston weather bureau at 5:30 a. m. That temperature was lowest since last April.

Coldest October 7 on record was in 1885, when thermometers hit an even 30.

Lost Athol Flier Turns Up Safely

Missing for almost 24 hours, Carl Rybecki, amateur flier, landed his red monoplane at Northampton today, as search for him was being made throughout central and western Massachusetts.

Te left Athol for Northampton yesterday, but was forced down by engine trouble. He said he landed in a lonely spot, camped over night and resumed his hop at dawn.

Mounting Fire Peril Speeds Woods Cleanup

With New Hampshire forests closed to hunters, more than 1200 CCC workers today were ordered into the woods in Massachusetts and New Hampshire to relieve a growing fire menace left in the wake of the hurricane.

Immediate opening of a U. S. Forestry service office in Boston, to coordinate efforts of various agencies to clean up storm damaged woodlands, was ordered by F. A. Silcox, chief forester.

Governor Francis P. Murphy ordered the woods closed in the five southern counties of New Hampshire until all danger of devastating fire is ended.

Robert Fechner, director of CCC, ordered the 1200 workers to clear up many miles of fallen timber, some of it piled 20 feet high.

Meanwhile, three more bodies of storm victims were recovered at Little Compton, R. I., where 14 more persons still are listed as missing.

Army engineers ordered work to begin at once on a $7,800,000 flood control project, including a dam and reservoir at Franklin, N. H.

Graves Payoff Checks Before Judge

Curley Democrat in the council committee room, an hour or [illegible] recess of the proceedings.

WHAT STATE CLAIMS

"We will show," Assistant District Attorney Frederick T. Doyle told Judge Williams, "that . . . Mr. Graves was not out in St Louis as H. A. Osborn and by Stuart Rand, and that he at first flatly gave an affidavit.

"In January 1937, Mr. Graves was here in Boston. Mr. Graves was seen by Stuart Rand over to Leonard F. McCormack at 161 Devonshire street, and there he executed an original affidavit that is attached to the city's petition.

"It was on the basis of that petition that the town corporation counsel, Henry Foley came before the court and petitioned for an order of notice in the cases and against Curley and Santosuosso."

THAT WASHINGTON VISIT

[illegible] yesterday [illegible] to the petition [illegible] the [illegible] contract. He [illegible] the court charging [illegible] oath to the Boston Finance Commission concerning [illegible] the settlement of a water-damage case against the city.

[illegible] that he lied to the finance commission when it was investigating water-damage settlements.

"The sum and substance of his testimony against Curley and Santosuosso at the trial of the city's civil suit against them.

At this trial, as Prosecutor Doyle explained to Judge Williams:

"He (Graves) stood on his affidavit that in the middle of November, 1937, he was stopping at the Hotel Mayflower in Washington, that Mr. Curley saw him in the foyer or lobby of the hotel and said:

"He approached him (Graves also) and said—

"How about settling the case?"

"Mr. Curley, he asserted, said:

"What is there in it for me?"

TOLD ABOUT MONEY

Graves said:

"Forty thousand dollars."

"He (Curley) said, according to Graves' testimony:

"Go back to Boston and tell Santosuosso to put it through."

[illegible] Graves [illegible] And it [illegible] he [illegible] trial [illegible] he [illegible] that he had [illegible] to [illegible] this [illegible] when it was investigating water-damage settlements.

"The sum and substance of his (Graves') testimony there (before the finance commission)," Prosecutor Doyle told Judge Williams, "was, first, that from the money he had received for the settlement of this case he transmitted a certified check for $20,000, and $30,000 in cash, to his principals, Montgomery & Sons in New York.

REFUTES DENIAL

"And then he said, when pressed by the members of the finance commission—and your honor will bear in mind this was around an election period—he said at least five times that he never met the then mayor of Boston, Mr. Curley, and that he had had no conference with Mr. Curley, and that Mr. Curley had had nothing to do with the settlement of the case.

"About two or three days before Primary Day, the Boston Finance Commission made a report about this so-called Graves settlement case . . . many inconsistent statements were given in that report.

"This report of the finance commission, I understand, was published in different newspapers. Mr. Curley was elected Governor, and some time after the finance commission report a suit was instituted by Mr. Curley against one of the Boston newspapers—a paper represented by Stuart Rand."

Doyle today [illegible] calling Rand to the stand, was expected to read into the record in the present trial the 100 pages of testimony given by Graves before the Boston Finance Commission.

The men, Patrolmen Fred A. Popp, 43, and Frank E. Connelly, 37, were found unconscious in their machine at a gasoline station into which they had driven only 15 minutes before.

INTO THE FIRE!

The Editor Says:

Thursday's Boston Evening American advertisement by the Hartford brothers, principal owners of that far-famed chain store system, the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, was a convincing appeal to millions of men and women who believe in fairness, honesty and common sense.

Representative Patman of Texas had announced he would renew his efforts in the next session of Congress to obtain enactment of a law designed to put chain stores out of business.

It was clear that Mr. Patman was giving no thought to the [illegible] of families in the country who patronize THIRTY PER CENT of our grocery stores because they raise the high chain stores.

It was evident that Mr. Patman was not considering the millions of consumers whose meager earnings would buy less and will have to EAT LESS if they could not avail themselves of low cost prices in chain stores.

It was evident that Mr. Patman was not [illegible] the appeals of thousands of employes of chain stores who would LOSE THEIR JOBS.

TWO COURSES were open to the Hartford [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] Mr. Patman's [illegible] of the two courses was to put the [illegible] and tell THE TRUTH and publish the REAL STORY of the American people who have found [illegible] a place for [illegible].

We say to the Hartfords: Trust John A. and George L. Hartford to publish the truth. Trust them to PAY THE PENALTY.

EFFECTIVELY, they disposed of [illegible] charges that they [illegible] and [illegible].

They said that after a 10 per cent profit on sales of $85 [illegible] was [illegible] per cent.

Of the money which came to the Hartfords, John A. Hartford received 51 per cent of the profits and George L. Hartford received 32 per cent.

By [illegible] FULLY TWO THIRDS of the [illegible] went to the Hartfords.

[illegible] Hartfords' profits from [illegible] SMALL.

INDEPENDENT GROCERS, [illegible] Hartfords [illegible] Hartfords [illegible] HELPED [illegible] THE PEOPLE TO HELP THEMSELVES. They [illegible] and for independents.

THEY REFER TO HELPFUL and [illegible] that [illegible] provided by the [illegible] and [illegible] that independents are entitled to a fair [illegible] for it.

They point out that an abundance of families in every city and [illegible] want and are willing to pay for such service.

But—and this is important—they add that on the other hand there are millions of families whose incomes are so modest that they must receive the greatest possible value for every cent they spend.

These are the families that chain stores serve.

These are the REAL VICTIMS of Representative Patman's high and mighty determination to wipe the poor people's food markets from the face of the earth.

Axes Smash Disraeli Room

By EDWIN C. HILL

Copyright 1938, King Features Synd., Inc.

THEY SINK a pick into the ornate old room where the British empire was fashioned. It is at 2 Whitehall Gardens, London, where Disraeli, with a far-ranged and somewhat gaudy imagination schemed and dreamed an Augustan outreach alien to the parochial British political mind of that day.

In this room, used then and since as a study for cabinet secretaries, fateful decisions of empire were made. Down before the wrecking gang the old building, its [illegible] ceilings, murals, sculptured mantelpieces and walls with [illegible] recesses which might whisper secrets of world destiny.

THEY have whispered these secrets, many [illegible] Englishmen believe. This conference chamber has been known as "Disraeli's ghost room." Matter-of-fact persons, not unduly imaginative and credulous, began to note "startling [illegible] properties" in this room nearly 30 years ago.

A young clerk lingering alone at night after a cabinet conference to arrange some papers distinctly heard a voice giving him some curt orders about the disposition of the papers. Afraid of rebuke he said nothing about it until one of the secretaries alone in the room late at night stepped into the corridor and called him.

"Hark you," he said, "what was your name of this?" The [illegible] thought I have distinctly heard a voice in this room."

The clerk told his story. Later they found three others who had heard the voice. Disraeli had died in 1881.

After several years an old timer who had known Disraeli said he heard the voice and swore it carried the same intonations of the wily old empire builder. Review World Magazine got a deal and learned of [illegible] on the story.

HE LISTENED for the voice and didn't hear it, but since the ghostly [illegible] was so [illegible] attested he accepted the evidence and tried to explain it. He wove a quaint and ponderous thesis in which he commented that old words might [illegible] [illegible] and [illegible] off again years later.

It's a nice bit of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

George McManus' great pictorial character struck a responsive note among men, women and kiddies. And the judges first choice fell on William C. Story of Co. Air Supremacy Of U. S. Menaced

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (AP)—Major General Harry H. Arnold, Army Air Corps chief, said today American supremacy in developed military aircraft was threatened.

"Until quite recently we had marked superiority in airplanes, engines and accessories," he said in a letter to air corps officers and men. "That superiority is now definitely challenged by recent developments abroad."

He gave no particulars, but informed persons said the air corps was concerned particularly over Germany's recent strides especially the perfection of a fast, two-engined pursuit fighter plane.

Lush New Lipstick On Fuchsia Purple Tone

By ARLINE GOULD

ON ONE hand we bless the new lip and fingernail lacquers for the [illegible] on them and the lush things they can do for you . . . on the other hand we regret the tendency that rose is when yesterday's lipstick is used with today's nail polish, or the other way 'round.

To [illegible] your glamour of the new [illegible] nail polish about it, dilettante, tissue your hands and shell-like and fragrant sweets at your standby, pick the very newest of the proportioned affairs has just arrived. And if goes farther in that direction than others have [illegible] so far.

Author's Thrilling Stay in Hollywood

CHAPTER 14

Eventually, I met the Hollywood producer for whom I was supposed to be working, but he failed to show enthusiasm. I had written neither books nor plays. The fact that I had written for newspapers, syndicates and magazines all over the world impressed him but little.

He concluded the interview by telling me to visit the studios, to get acquainted with Hollywood, to make myself feel really at home.

My salary was to continue, according to the contract, and I was to live the life of Riley.

It was on the eve of the expiration of my three months' agreement that the outlines of this situation became apparent to me. I was in that state of "optimism" which affects all writers when the guarantee is expiring.

They are wondering whether the studio will take up the option and, if they refuse to renew, whether there is a job waiting somewhere. Between writing stuff as well as other studies, sending another book here or some publication there, to work.

Rail Wage Cut Called Practical

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (INS)—[illegible]

"We are not a coming industry," he declared. "We are a waning industry—and I saw that unbusinesslingly."

To the boss [illegible] pegging a possible compromise [illegible] between management and employees over an ordered 10 per cent pay cut. Norris stated that "this wage reduction is an exceedingly practical proposition."

It is a matter of "where we are going to get the money," he emphasized.

Norris clashed frequently with labor attorneys when they cross-examined him. Tom Davis, one of the latter counsel, sought to draw from Norris an admission that railroads believe their wages should be based on [illegible] pay.

CUBS BEAT YANKS, ---TO NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs finally beat the New York Yankees today—beat them into town by ten minutes—as both the National and American League champions arrived from Chicago to resume the World Series tomorrow at Yankee Stadium with the Bronx bombers holding a 2-0 lead in games.

As the Cub special drew into Pennsylvania station, all was quiet.

Key Plays Collision of Stanley Hack and Billy Jurges gave the Yankees two soft runs in second inning. Lou Gehrig is rounding second on the play as the two Cubs infielders perch on the turf. Dizzy Dean is trying to recover fumbled ball. Insert above shows Yankee Crosetti crossing plate after belting winning homer. Bat boy pats him on back.

Gabby Hartnett's gang, apparently, still was suffering from shell shock after the Yankee home run guns exploded in their faces in the second game.

The Yankees, in contrast, were happy and confident, and even happier when Manager Joe McCarthy gave them the day off.

[illegible] was confident [illegible] session that they [illegible] sweep the [illegible] games and the series in four straight.

We'll Win Four---Gabby

NEW YORK, Oct. 7 (INS)—There were no lilies in the Cubs' hands today as Gabby Hartnett's boys, two games down in the 1938 World Series, arrived here for their third game against the Yankees tomorrow.

Still moaning over the breaks that they claim gave New York the first two games at Wrigley Field, the Cubs unanimously believed—they said—that they could yet upset the leaders. Hartnett said:

"We will shoot Clay Bryant at 'em tomorrow, and on Sunday they will have to look at Bill Lee's stuff again. This series isn't over by a long shot."

Asked how many games he expected to win, Hartnett said:

"Four! We'll win when we start hitting, and that will be tomorrow."

Austen Lake:

Dizzy Dean Misses Immortality by a Nose

NEW YORK, Oct. 7—They say that Dizzy Dean screamed in his sleep last night as the pullman carried the Cubs east for the third game of this World Series. They say he sat up yelling, "Gimme that back." Obviously he was referring to the home run ball which he had pitched to Frank Crosetti with two out in the Yankees' half of the eighth inning, a pitch which he had complained afterward "Slee-up't outen mah hand." Maybe it did slip. But the one he subsequently threw to Joe DiMaggio in the ninth couldn't have "Slee-up't" too.

AUSTEN LAKE

Joe just brandished his big black bat and started to walk. From the solid feel of the ball on sweet spot of his mace, he knew it was irrevocably pickled.

So Dizzy won the first 7-9th of the second World Series game by 3 to 2, but lost the last 2-9ths by 4 to 0. So the day's mathematics ended with the Yankees giving the Cubs a second successive licking 6 to 3. It was like pulling rabbits out of a silk hat

They were rounding out these [illegible] telegrams which made Joe Marty, the lad outfielder who batted in all the Cub runs, a co-hero of the occasion. When suddenly a cloud of grief fell on Diz and on the journalists alike.

toast in that kind of grass. But Lee pitched his arm off but tantalizing he served his glove which was of the same kind.

Seven stops for six tickets in the answer to the Yanks copping everything in sight. That means smacking the jackpot every time you drop a slug in the chute. The Cubs were in the pay-off line but they didn't reach the window.

Crosetti is the hero of the series. All he got in four tries was four tries. Di Maggio got two out of four but Dickey went back to normal. All he got in four tries was four tries.

There's no use figuring the Yanks on box scores. They were apparently outbatted and outfielded. But when the sun sank in the gold-plated West they were setting as pretty as a boy in an apple tree.

With Lee and Dean out of the way the only thing between the Yanks and next Tuesday is the traffic cops.

Several athletes familiar to Boston's football fandom will be seen in action Sunday when the J. J. Club, which beat the Boston Shamrocks last week, meets the powerful Providence Steamrollers at the Chelsea Memorial Stadium next Sunday afternoon.

The Jay Jays, coached by Denny Gildea, veteran mentor of Everett High School, are made up almost entirely of local boys, including Americo Sarno and Joe Pistarpio of Fordham, Tom O'Donnell of Villanova, Phil Chardon of St. Anselm's, Buddy Graffam of New Hampshire and Tom Kelley of Temple.

Four Outs From Immortality

By BILL CORUM

International News Service Sports Writer

ABOARD THE WORLD SERIES SPECIAL, Oct. 7 (INS)—Well, it looks as though I'm gone with the Windy City.

The trouble with baseball is that they let too many of those Californians into it. There ought to be a law. Or an immigration quota. Or something.

This sports writers' special is following the Crosetti comet, on which the Yankees are riding back to New York after their second straight series triumph.

I suppose every time you look up on their train there is sognor or a senor swaggering through the aisles.

There isn't even an accordion player on our train to make a poor National Leaguer forget.

ONE FOR GROTTO

To make him forget, particularly, that second game in Cubs Park, which came within four outs of being one of the great baseball sagas of all time.

A game in which the $185,000 investment of a Chicago chewing gum fortune had New York's beer fortune reeling along the ropes of defeat until the littlest signor came along.

The littlest signor is Signor Frankie Crosetti, who isn't an overly large man, albeit he smacks a wicked apple.

The Wrigley kids were no aid to digestion in Chicago last evening. They forgot to stick together early in the game, after which the signors Crosetti and DiMaggio sent Mr. Chicago home to dinner with a severe pain in his "tummy."

After Crosetti had broken up the ball game, DiMaggio hit one for Joe's grotto, which is his restaurant in San Francisco, and almost knocked it back there.

In fact, if a ball should bounce into some customer's crab meat salad today, it will be the one that Joe smacked. He realy gave it a ride.

It was some ball game, my friends.

NOT QUITE ENOUGH

The champions out-wrestled Man Mountain Dean, without the whiskers, in the end. But before they were through with him they knew they had been to the mat.

A "phantom Dean" with a phantom pitch, the long-legged ex-cotton picker from the southwest all but carried an afternoon that was as dizzy as he ever dared to be.

He didn't have much to brag about on the ball. Just the flickering shadow of his once famed "fogger," the know how, and a great competitive heart that carried him up to, but not quite over, the beckoning goal line of victory.

CRONIN AIDS DiMAGGIO

Hockey Loop Economizes

Just so long as he was able to keep his serves low on the Yankees yesterday, Dizzy Dean held the upper hand . . . But, when he started to tire, his pitches to Frank Crosetti and Joe DiMaggio "hung" on the inside and were pulled for home runs . . . Since he retrieved four of his pet bats from Joe Cronin, Joe DiMaggio has recovered his timing and is hitting again . . . The Big Green has been playing 'possum all season and if it gets the jump on the Tigers Saturday, will still refuse to open up . . . In trying to explain Dizzy Dean's new pitching technique, one of the World Series radio announcers gave himself the leg . . . He stated that "Diz" was a side arm hurler now and that "he lifts his RIGHT leg very high making his pitches." If he does, Diz must be a southpaw . . . Do you know that Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dinneen recently visited the Hub . . . They came here with "Butch" Dinneen, who is taking a P. G. course at Harvard . . . Frank Smith, who has been playing in Canadian football for the Montreal Cubs, has returned to the University of Maine . . . "Old King" Clancy, father of the former N. H. L. star, died recently in Ottawa. He was one of the greatest all around athletes ever developeed in Canada . . . Paul "Red" Louden, former Dartmouth end, has signed "Ching" Johnson to manage the Minneapolis Millers in the American Hockey Association . . . The current World Series is without a sponsor . . . And, are the ball players moaning over the loss of that extra dough! . . . The Goodall Co., makers of Palm Beach clothes, will hold its invitation tournament in New York next year . . . Pres. Elmer Ward and Freddie Corcoran are working out the details . . . It will be staged in conjunction with the Palm Beach exhibit at the New York World's Fair . . . The Bruins will open the 1938-39 National Hockey League season at Toronto on November 3 . . . And, all "linesmen" in the N. H. L. will be local men . . . Cutting down the overhead, Hey? . . . Frankie Crosetti, despite the fact that the wind was blowing in off Lake Michigan, was aiming for the left field wall at Wrigley Field all yesterday afternoon . . . Before he got the gauge, Frankie sent Carl Reynolds back to the wall on two accosions . . . Incidentally, Reynolds has been as potent in this series as he was during the first Western trip of the Red Sox in 1934 . . . He was hitting for .403 when he left home but upon his return, he was out of the .300 class . . . On seven official trips to the bat, Carlo of the Rancho hasn't hit the ball out of the infield.

Bolvin, Robichaud Back in Action ; Toss Punches in Arena Tourney

By JACK CONWAY

TWO NEW ENGLAND Hearst All-America champions have entered the Irish American A. A. amateur boxing show at the Arena on Monday night . . . They are Larry Bolvin of Providence, flyweight champion, and Gene Robichaud of Worcester, welterweight king . . . Bolvin has packed on weight, and now boxes at 118 pounds.

Mr. Boston

Bolvin battled his way to victory in the All-Eastern finals as well as the New England's of the Hearst All-America show, and then was outscored in the grand nationals . . . With added weight and experience, Bolvin is a serious threat for the top amateur boxing honors in the country this year at 118 pounds.

Tom Kanaly announces that for Monday night's show he has also received the entries of Richard Bergoron, South Boston, in the 118-pound class, Paul Cambria, Boston, in the 126-pound division, Arthur Garceau, Taunton, in the 147-open, and Alfred Belcher, Cambridge, in the 160-pound novice . . . George Freeman of the Irishman A. A. expects there will be 30 bouts with the usual amount of intensified action.

That $2 win ticket I have on the Yankees over the Cubs continues to look better day by day . . . In the second game of the series, it was Crosetti and DiMaggio who did the hitting, and Gomez the pitching for the Yanks . . . Johnny Garro was so excited after getting the full returns of what he termed an Italian victory that he was unable to make a statement . . . It would have made a swell story if Dizzy Dean had evened up the series for the Cubs . . . Like about everybody else, I would have liked to have seen old Diz come through with a victory.

The fire is now out of the series . . . Even the Cubs down deep in their hearts now figure the Yankees are a cinch to win . . . Gabby Hartnett will probably pitch Bryant tomorrow in an effort to stop the wild surge of Joe McCarthy's club.

Mike Jacobs Goes Baer Hunting

MIKE JACOBS, accompanied by his attorney, Sol Strauss, will leave for California Saturday on a Baer hunt . . . Jacobs is anxious to sign Max Baer to box under his auspices in San Francisco in April, and then to collide with Joe Louis in a bout for the world's championship next June . . . Baer and Ancil Hoffman, his manager, are perfectly willing to accept the tussle with Louis, but they have been adverse to taking on another opponent before battling the champion . . . Jacobs is of the opinion he can convince Baer and Hoffman that an April bout will build interest in a championship tussle with Louis.

While on the Coast, Jacobs will try to sign Al Hostak, world's middleweight champion, for a meeting with the winner of the Fred Apostoli-Young Corbett tussle . . . The New York Athletic Commission recently made itself look rather silly when it refused to recognize Hostak as champion after he stopped Freddy Steele in a round . . . Steele at the time was the generally recognized middleweight king as a result of his victory over Baby Risko.

Al McCoy's Montreal bout with Oliver Shanks of Toronto has been postponed from tonight until October 21 . . . McCoy is training at Lou Stillman's New York . . . Matchmaker "Rip" Valenti of the Goodwin A. C. is trying to sign McCoy for a meeting with "Red" Burman, Jack Dempsey's latest heavyweight "hope."

New "Masked Marvel" for Wrestling

WRESTLING'S latest "Masked Marvel" will oppose Tommy Rae of Springfield in the semi-final to the Yvon Robert-K. O. Koverly finish bout at the Garden on Thursday night . . . The "Masked Marvel" is a six foot giant who has been bowling over the opposition throughout the Middle West . . . The "Masked Marvel" wears a complete black outfit in the ring, and, according to Paul Bowser, makes a weird appearance.

It is expected that Steve Casey, World's champion, will leave Ireland for this country within a few days . . . He will be accompanied by his brothers Pat, Jim and Tom . . . Pat and Jim are wrestlers, Tom a boxer.

Max Schmeling will return to the United States during the indoor boxing season, and will try for new ring honors . . . Schmeling still thinks he can beat Joe Louis . . . It is seldom that a heavyweight challenger has been beaten as decisively as Der Max was in his last meeting with Louis . . . Schmeling didn't throw a single effective blow during the two minutes he was in the ring.

Gene Tunney insists Schmeling was frightened to death once Louis started to throw his best Sunday punches . . . Schmeling does not rate a return tussle with Louis under any conditions . . . Schmeling has given very little in the fighting line for the million dollars he has been paid by American promoters.

Tigers Ahoy!

Dartmouth Goes Easy

HANOVER, N. H., Oct. 7 (AP)—The lightest practice since pre-scrimmage sessions in early September marked Dartmouth's final workout before its game with Princeton tomorrow.

The three teams which left today for the New Jersey college town went through routine running on the dummy machine and signal practice. The session ended with a short workout at kicking field goals, with Sophomore Halfback Bob Krieger and Regular Bill Hutchinson having consistent success from the 30 and 35-yard lines.

Hitler Hurt on Face By Hurled Bouquet

Bear Tamer—Joe DiMaggio cuts himself a big slice of Bear meat with a ninth inning homer. Lou Gehrig gives him a hand as Yankees hang up second straight victory in World Series play. That wallop spelled e-n-d to Diz Dean's attempt to even-Stephan the heavy-dough series that moves to New York tomorrow.
